World Concern Project

Thanks mainly to a hard working LHS Key Club crew, we had a successful project folding and packing clothes at World Concern on Tuesday, February 22. On hand from Kiwanis were Ralph Baggerly, Kim Darby, Larry Merwin and Bob Zwink. Key Club had us outnumbered with Leslie Elvig, Chelsea Jordan, Rebecca Giventer, Kristine Perander and Danielle Winston.

February 8 Board Meeting

At the official meeting of your Board of Directors it was decided to send another $500 to Kiwanis International Foundation designated for tsunami disaster relief. This puts our club total contribution at $2050 including an anonymous $1000 donation by a member. It was also agreed that we will serve breakfast at the Relay for Life on May 22. This is the morning after the Auction but enough support was shown that it was decided to proceed

Wood Choppers Ball

Many thanks to Mr. Baggerly for sending along these pictures from the wood chopping party held at his place on February 5. Thanks also go to Mrs. B. for providing lunch for the workers. As I recall the report there were two cords chopped and split with the help of a splitter borrowed from Rod Mader. The wood was then delivered to the purchaser. Missing from the photos but on hand for the project were John Baker and the photographer Ralph Baggerly.

Lynnwood Kiwanis Trolley Tales News and Announcements

February 10 Meeting

We had an official guest for Ralph Baggerly to introduce today. Barry Keating had daughter Shea in tow. Our speaker today was not a morning person so he showed up just as we were adjourning early. We quickly reconvened to hear from Mr. Greg Magyar, theater director for Driftwood Players. Greg highlighted some of the history of the theater and its operations. They have been in existence 46 years and own their building free and clear. They actually turned over the property to the City Of Edmonds with the condition that it remain theater if they should happen to fold. Their members run the theater and you are likely to see veteran actors right alongside inexperienced actors learning the ropes. Next up for them is a production of "The Maids."

February 17 Meeting

No guests today. We do not draw many interclubs to our meetings these days. I hope that the practice of interclubbing is not fading away because I think it is an important part of the Kiwanis program. Unfortunately our speaker for the day called in sick. We filled the time with the long list of activities scheduled for the weeks ahead. Ron reported on the success of the SOS project. We cleaned and packed up over 520 pairs of glasses and ate three pizzas. Our newest member, Kim Darby was brought up to speed on how our auction works and the importance, as the date draws near, to come up with attendees, auction items, and Kiwanis members to assist with the planning. The Auction Committee was to meet on February 21 at Bill Temple's. The Membership Campaign seems to be stalling and Mr. Baggerly asks that we please make contact with the people we submitted to receive an invitation letter. It would not be good to send a letter to stir up interest and then leave those folks hanging with no follow up. It is up to each and every one of us to spread the good word of what Lynnwood Kiwanis is all about and give others the opportunity to serve our community with the fun and fellowship that we enjoy along with serving. The Lucky Buck went from Keith to Mr. Ron Swengel.
