My wife makes this wonderful soup from the frig; she calls it "Cream of Yesterdays". It is so thick that when I stir it, the whole room goes round & round. The next day when we warm up some in the microwave, one teaspoon and we are sent 'back in time'...WOW!!! That she calls 'Back to the Future' hash.

INTERCLUBbing with Snohomish

Last week, three hardy souls braved the weather to trek to Snohomish for an Interclub with our fellows there. The report was good food, good fellowship, more good food and more good fellowship. Cheers!!!

FIRST SOUP O' THE DAY

The man who invented Ramen Soup noodles did it like this: The noodles are fried in palm oil, drained, dried and shaped into blocks for compact packaging. When heaped into a pan of boiling water, together with the lil seasoning provided, you get a tasty breakfast broth worthy for adding vegetables, white wine, meats when chopped into small bit sized pieces and cilantro. Um Um, Good!!!!
