FOOD WORKERS/CARD

Here is information on getting/renewing your Food Workers\ Card (aka Food Handlers Card).

The most essential element of food safety is people. How restaurant and other workers handle food makes a big difference in keeping the public safe from food borne illness.

You are required to get a food worker card if you:

- Work with unpackaged food, such as in a restaurant or bar
- Touch food equipment, such as washing dishes
- Work at any surface where people put unwrapped food, including grocery store cashiers

All food workers must have a valid food worker card.

Food worker card classes are available online and in person in Lynnwood and Everett. The fee is $10. The card is valid throughout Washington State for two years, and may be renewed for an additional three years. There are no age requirements for getting a Food Worker Card; anyone who can pass the test can get a card. Prepare for the class by reviewing the manual in advance:

- Food and Beverage Works Manual (52.1.11)

Contact Info: Phone: 425.339.5250

Email: foodworkercard@snohd.org

Office Hours: Monday - Friday 8:00 am to 5:00 pm; closed from noon to 1:00 pm.

Everett:

- Mondays 3 pm
- Thursdays 10 am and 3 pm
- 3rd Monday & 3rd Thursday 6pm (Aug 16 & Aug 19)

Address:

Snohomish Health District
3020 Rucker Ave. Auditorium
Everett, WA 98201

Things you need to know when attending the Food Worker Card Classes:

- Class is 90 minutes. No admittance after class begins – they mean it, doors are shut and locked
- There are no breaks during class. Cost for the card is $10 cash only, nothing larger than a $20 bill, lease
- No food or drink allowed in the classrooms, except water
- If you are renewing your card, please bring the expiring card to the class
- Cell phones and pages must be turned off during class

Renewals can be done on line. Note: www.foodworkercard.wa.gov is the only online training program authorized to provide you with a valid food worker card in Snohomish County. Other websites that appear to offer a similar card are not recognized as a valid government-issued permit to work in a food establishment.

Volunteers are the only human beings on the face of the earth who reflect this nation's compassion, unselfish caring, patience, and just plain love for one another.

- Erma Brombeck
