11th Annual Salmon Barbecue - A Big Success

John Bruce, July 26th, 2005

I was driving home on Sunday night around 10 o'clock after those hectic two days of the salmon barbecue feeling pretty sorry for myself, thinking "Here I am, smelling of smoke, bone tired, hurting all over, sick of the sight of salmon and Stan's beans so why I am I doing this to myself? Next year I'm gonna spend the month of July in Hawaii - that will take care of that!!". Ten hours later on Monday after a fitful night of sleep I drive in for our weekly meeting still in the same frame of mind, then I see Dibe's smiling face and he hands me what I hope is a winning ticket, people shake my hand and say hello and I'm starting to feel better especially after eating my favorite fritter. Then we get a preliminary report showing we made out pretty well on the BBQ. Now I'm starting to forget all those aches and pains. At our next meeting I listen to Doris read a student's letter thanking us for the scholarship and telling us what she is doing and her plans. Then I remember the enthusiasm of the third graders upon receiving one of our dictionaries. More good news, the salmon BBQ and silent auction netted close to $10,000 (see page 2) so we will be able to keep our programs going next year. Now I'm feeling great, no major pains and I still like salmon and I love beans, I think I'll stick around Snohomish next July and see what's happening at the 2006 Salmon Barbecue.. Aloha Oe!

Delegates update motto, OK tax-status change

Wednesday, July 6, 2005: Kiwanis International Convention

Kiwanis International has a new motto: "Serving the Children of the World." Delegates at the 90th Annual International Convention in Honolulu approved the change to eliminate "We Build" as the organization's motto. The club representatives also approved an amendment to allow Kiwanis International to pursue 501(c)(3) nonprofit status with the United States government.

The "We Build" motto, written by International Trustee Roe Fulkerson, was adopted at the 1920 Convention in Portland, Oregon. "Serving the Children of the World" became a service slogan after Kiwanis established the Young Children: Priority One program.

In other business, the delegates approved the following:

- An administrative resolution creating the position of expert financial advisor on the International Board
- The elimination of the charter fee and a provision for a "fee per new club charter member."
- The rewording of a Bylaws section regarding club chartering so it reflects the move to annual dues collection in North America
- An option for districts to elect district trustees.
- A waiver, for two years, of Kiwanis dues for past Circle K members.

The House defeated the following proposed amendments:

- An increase in the number of a club's delegates, from two to three.
- A requirement to fix the new-member-add fee in the Bylaws.
- A change to allow delegates, during International Board elections, to vote for a fewer number of nominees than there are vacancies to be filled.

Two other proposals affecting the new-member fee were postponed. One would give the House of Delegates control over new-member fees, and the other would give clubs, through the House of Delegates, oversight of charter fees and new-member-induction/processing fees.

Two proposed amendments concerned the current International Board position of Vice-President/Treasurer. One proposal to change the one office into two—Vice-President and Treasurer—did not receive a motion and was not considered. Another proposed amendment to eliminate the title—but not the position—of Vice-President/Treasurer and create the title of Vice-President was postponed.
